The past year's expenses of the town were necessarily much larger than usual, although the amount raised by vote was no more and the tax rate lower.

While there were a combination of unavoidable causes for the increase of the town debt, we will call attention to two very material ones: we have paid on account of town history appropriation (see miscellaneous account) $425, and received from the State (see State Treasurer's statement) $227.99 less than one year ago.

SCHOOL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

There have been schools during the whole or a part of the school year in Districts No. 1, 3, 4, 7, 8, and 12. The number of schools in town, has been somewhat in excess of that for several previous years; but an effort has been made by the Board to keep all up to a good degree of excellence, that the children of Francestown may want for few if any of the educational facilities offered by our larger, and in most respects, more enterprising towns; and while our teachers have in every instance furnished in their efforts but exhibitions of home talent, the Board can but feel that the results have been invariably good.

Although no excessive amount has of late been expended upon our school buildings, a careful observation of the same will show all to be in good repair, while several notable instances of most gratifying improvements must be accredited to the year just past.

A truly commendable interest in our schools has of late been exhibited by enterprising parents—may their number increase—who, while striving to awaken worthy emulation in the minds of their children, have by the good suggestion and the timely visit done much in the right direction.

A specific report of each district is given below.

DISTRICT No. 1.

There was a small but wide-awake school taught during the spring term with the best of success by Miss Mary L. Bryant, who rightly believing that her experience and superior attainments entitled her to a more remunerative position, to the regret of the Board did not continue her labors here through the remaining terms of the year.

Miss Annie M. Colburn was engaged to succeed Miss Bryant and taught here in the fall and winter. Both the teacher and pupils manifested a desire that the school should be pleasant and profitable and much interest in the school work was shown by the parents. Miss Colburn here more than sustained her reputation as a thorough painstaking teacher.

DISTRICT No. 3.

Primary Department.

Minnie M. Tobie taught this school the whole year with her usual energy and skill, and accomplished a good years work in all the branches taught. Good order, strict attention and ready answers were marked features of the year's work.

Grammar School.

George K. Wood taught in this department of No. 3 the entire year. Mr. Wood endeavors to make his school progressive. He is not satisfied with following from year to year the same plan, but is continually seeking some new thing by which he may stimulate his pupils to greater exertions and more love for the studies which are usually taught in this school.

DISTRICT No. 4.

This school was combined with District No. 5, and placed in charge of Mary A. Pettee, who has in District No. 5 for several years given the best of satisfaction in all the many qualities that are necessary to make a successful teacher. Yet with her labors increased by the large increase of scholars she showed no less skill but a greater capacity to govern and instruct, although she had many more classes. Sorry were we that we could not procure her services for only two terms, but on account of ill health she felt it best to rest.

Martha M. Woodbury taught the winter term. A teacher of considerable experience and with a great love for her work, we think that she will continue the work begun by Miss Pettee.

Scarlet fever having caused a break in this school, and at the writing of this report the school being in session, we cannot make a full report, but when visited we were well satisfied with its workings.

DISTRICT No. 7.

The spring term in this division was taught by Miss Annie Colburn. Miss Colburn's reputation as a successful teacher is well known, and this term was no exception. The school was small in numbers, but under Miss Colburn's instruction it was a term of improvement and advancement.

The fall term was taught by Miss Carrie Downes. The term was shortened on account of some of the scholars leaving town. The attendance was small, but the scholars gave evidence of steady progress. We were pleased to notice that music was introduced in the school.

DISTRICT No. 8.

The school in this division was taught the entire school year (two terms) by Miss Eva Foote. This was Miss Foote's first experience in teaching, but she possesses many of the qualifications which go to make the successful teacher. She won the respect and confidence of the scholars, and good order was maintained. Altogether it was a year of steady and constant improvement.

DISTRICT No. 12.

The No. 12 schoolhouse (in New Boston) was secured for the spring term in this district, and a good school was taught here by Miss Jennie E. Shattuck. The "examination" of the school brought together a good number of the parents who, with a member of the Board present, commended both the teacher and the scholars. Miss Shattuck would have been retained here for a full term had it not been thought advisable to unite this school for a season with that of District No. 4.

During the winter the scholars of No. 12 were placed under the able instruction of Mrs. Julia Carson at her home, much to the satisfaction of the parents in the district, and also of the children thus highly favored.
